Prior to your arrival we will arrange for the house to be opened up, the electricity and gas turned on and the hot water for a few hours just to get things going for you. Here are a few things you will need to know about the house.

- Electricity and hot water:

You will find the fuse box next to the kitchen cupboard (on LHS) above the fridge. The important one to know about is the hot water switch, which has 3 settings, found on the extreme RHS. Top is off, middle is constant and bottom is booster. Providing the switch is left in the middle position the booster will automatically turn on between 11:30pm and 7:30am. Unless there is a problem this switch should remain in the middle throughout your stay especially since electricity is very expensive during the day between 7:30am until 11:30pm. Electric heaters also use up lots of electricity so unless you need them please remember to switch them off. On arrival please check the hot water is working as it may take some time to heat up. The ON/OFF switch for electricity is inside the kitchen cupboard above the fridge.

- Cooker Gas:
The gas cylinder for the cooker is contained in the cupboard directly under the sink. If there is no gas at the cooker, please check the cylinder and ensure the valve is turned on. If the cylinder is empty please contact Jan but it is unlikely this will happen during your stay.
- Fridge:
The fridge should already be switched on but do check this on your arrival. When using electrical appliances (kettle, heaters specifically) be aware that in France, fuses can tend to trip more easily than in the UK. Switching off one of the appliances in use will rectify this. The large fridge found in the hallway by the bathroom also works and can be used, however it's better suited for drinks and dairies but not fruit and vegetables as it gets very cold.
- TV/Video/DVD/Radio:
A brand new 40 inch in the lounge with BluRay/DVD player. It will only be able to receive French channels. UK DVDs do work in these appliances so please feel free to bring some of your own along but please do not let the children play with these appliances as they are used by other guests and guests arriving after you will not be able to use them if they have been broken. We may have some of our own DVDs available for your use. Please note we cannot be held responsible if you damage your own equipment in our appliances e.g. videos, DVDs etc. Please use any electrical appliance with care.

If there is a storm, please unplug all electrical appliances especially the TV and delicate appliances as these will blow usually beyond repair. Do not be alarmed this is quite normal in France.

- Fireplace:
If you decide to light the woodburner (usually only in the autumn) please observe all fire regulations and advice, especially if there are children in your party. It's advisable to leave a window ajar to allow ventilation. If you have requested wood we would normally have your supply placed in the kitchen around the chimney - in case you run out further supplies can be found in the shed outside or just outside the shed (this generally applies to only winter lets).
- Heating:
If it is cold it is advisable to heat up the bedrooms an hour prior to going to bed. The heaters are very effective and heat up very quickly. If it's very cold overnight you may want to leave the heating on for a little longer on a very low setting to keep the room warm but please do not leave the electric heaters on all day or night as electricity in France is rather expensive. If you close all the shutters at night you will find the house is kept much warmer. Please ensure you switch off all radiators when not required and also unplug at the end of your stay. The lounge/kitchen radiator controls can be found on the top RH corner (under a small plastic covering).
- Refuse:
Please do not leave any uneaten food or rubbish behind in the house or on the grounds when you leave. It would be appreciated if you could put your rubbish in plastic bags (you may find a supply in the kitchen) and deposit these in the large green refuse bins found on the roadside as you drive around in France. In fact there is one on the LHS road in Couberie just before the church or one on the RHS of the road just before you turn into the road going into Lassay Les Châteaux. We may have to make a charge if you do not remove the refuse as this delays the cleaning process for the next guests.

- Shopping:

There are lots of small local shops found in Lassay Les Châteaux which you may have passed on your way to La Refoulerie. Remember shops close at 12 Noon everyday and usually open again around 2pm/3pm. All shops are usually closed all day on Sunday except for the bakery. Large supermarkets can be found just outside Lassay on the road to Bagnoles de L'Orne and a very large one found at Ferte Mace called Leclare some kilometres outside Bagnoles 20km - from Lassay approx 20 minute drive. Sometimes on a Monday night there is a mobile takeaway Pizza that is really good. They usually park in the square just outside the town hall (La Mairie) in Lassay. You may like to try this out if you don't want to cook but remember the French eat early and we think they may close up shop around 9pm.

- Places to visit:

Whatever you do you must venture out and visit Bagnoles de L'Orne which is a gorgeous tourist centre/spa town and comes highly recommended for all sorts of activities including, swimming pool, tennis courts, restaurants, a Casino, cinema, lovely church on the hill and lots of hotels, a natural lake surrounded by forests and its own Chateaux open to visitors. You can go horse riding, hunting, cycling or just walking and after a meal it's a great idea to finish the evening off with a leisurely walk around the lake which is lit after dark and looks spectacular. The scenery in this area is just terrific and there's heaps of fresh air and wild life to enjoy all year round.

- Locks:

Please ensure all windows, doors and shutters are locked whenever you leave the house. There is a key to each external door. Keys can be found for each door on top of each top door hinge. Please replace these keys to their original location when you leave the house. Any lost keys will incur a charge.

- Some tips about France:

For those of you who have never been to France before and don't know the customs. For example:

Most places are closed on a Sunday. It is very difficult to get petrol on a Sunday and sometimes they will only take cash, especially at the very small petrol stations. Please remember to fill up to cover the whole weekend, so it's best to fill up on Saturday to be sure.

Most shops close around 12:00 for lunch everyday and on a Saturday some shops may close from 12:00 for the rest of the weekend so be sure you have enough provisions to last you.

France has many more Bank Holidays than in the UK and they don't always coincide with ours. In fact they probably don't so it's good to check when they have a public holiday as it may not always be on a Monday. You could check with the local grocery store Huit-A-Huit. The lady in there is always full of information. If you want more information about the local area go to Bagnoles de L'Orne and the information office (which you will pass just as you enter the town) is full of up-to-date information that you can pick up so it's worth paying them a visit.

THINGS TO DO BEFORE LEAVING THE HOUSE

- Unplug all electrical appliances from wall sockets especially TV and TV aerial unless you have been told that there is a changeover on your leaving.
- Lock all doors, windows and shutters.
- Clear fridge free of ALL food switch off and leave door open
- Ensure no taps are running or dripping.
- Leave all internal door keys (after locking) above hinge on each door.
- Leave all internal doors open. The attic door (in the upstairs master bedroom) is permanently locked so please do not try to open it.
- Return the main door keys to the agreed location as previously arranged with Housekeeper or to where you found them on your arrival. If they were supplied in the UK, please bring them back.
- Remove all food/rubbish from the premises and leave as found.
- Ensure all fire embers have been swept away and removed from the premises. A fire should not be lit the night before departure - please observe all fire regulations/advice.
- Please remember to return all furniture where originally found if you have moved them around the cottage.
- We would be most grateful if you would write any comments/suggestions you have on your return. I will send you a feedback form to complete.

Thank you so much.

We hope you enjoy your time at La Refoulerie.

Best wishes

Joyce and William White
